Leetonia 1st Graders Are Linguists

Recite 'Goldilocks' And 'Three Bears' In French

By GLENN SCHOTTEN
LEETONIA — Changes in school curriculum that are mere prognostications for the future in most parts of the nation have already come true in Leetonia Elementary Village Schools.

The ungraded elementary school is already an established fact here, well-accepted by teachers, pupils and parents.

Language instruction in the tender years is another entrenched practice, albeit little known even in nearby cities and villages.

HERE FIRST LEVEL pupils (first graders in graded schools) learn French. So far as is known, this is the only school in the area, perhaps in Ohio, which offers a language to six-year-olds.

So it is perfectly possible for a child to have 12 years of the language at Leetonia before he enters college.

"The choice of the language is not important," says Robert Scanlon, young, imaginative elementary administrator. The children could just as well be studying German, Spanish even Arabic.

"The important thing is to learn a foreign language since research shows that once a foreign language is mastered, other foreign languages come easier," the administrator said.

WHY TEACH CHILDREN SO young? "Because youngsters up to age 10 mimic adults, repeating just what they hear. They lack the inhibitions that often hamper a strange language," Scanlon claims.

He feels the poor grasp of languages by Americans is a sad situation, a paradox. "Because of our rich racial and ethnological background, we should be the wealthiest country in the world in use of other tongues," he states. The trend in the United States today is to overcome ling-

Dominicans Mass For Haiti Thrust

Massive Racial Demonstrations To Continue

Negroes Sing, Pray In Alabama Park As Police Watch

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Negro integration leaders say there will be no letup in massive racial demonstrations in the wake of a Sunday march by more than 1,000 Negroes who sang and prayed in a park as policemen stood by with fire hoses and dogs.

Police Commissioner Eugene Connor reversed his tactics and permitted the peaceful march from a church to a nearby park and back to the church. It was one of the largest planned demonstrations of the Southern desegregation movement.

Over 1,400 Arrested
More than 1,400 arrests have been made in the past four days of stepped-up racial activity.

Still in jails or detention quarters are about 1,000 Negroes, including more than 500 school children under 16.

"Our plans for continued demonstrations have not been changed and we will move right on Monday," said the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, top strategist in the movement.

Plans would be changed if racial talks start, he said. Efforts to ease the growing threat of major trouble continued as Burke Marshall, head of the U.S. Justice Department's civil rights division, worked in secret to settle the issues. He conferred with white and Negro leaders.

Comedian To Join Forces
Scheduled to join the desegregation forces today was Negro comedian Dick Gregory who participated in voter registration efforts at Greenwood, Miss.

Bunker Hill Church Dedicated

"A rural church set amid the beauties of nature strongly witnesses to the fact of values far beyond those of the material things in life," so spoke Dr. S. Lee Whiteman of Columbus, administrative assistant to the bishop, when the congregation of Bunker Hill Church gathered Sunday morning to dedicate their church building.

Approximately 200 persons attended the 11 a.m. service and heard Dr. Whiteman's sermon, "In the Name of God." Rev. Ralph Fotia, pastor of the church, presided.

Warren Wilson, chairman of the board of trustees, was presented a plaque commemorating the dedication, by Rev. Fotia.

This plaque will be placed in the narthex of the church. Pictured (l. to r.) are Dr. White, Mr. Wilson and Rev. Fotia.

"God's House" was sung by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Robert Maurer, and special organ music was presented by Mrs. Willard Headland.

The present church building on Middleton Rd. northwest of Salem was consecrated Feb. 2, 1958, and replaced the one built in 1866 which was completely destroyed by a tornado May 12, 1956. History of the Bunker Hill church goes back 132 years to the frame structure built at the site in 1831.

The church has a membership of 225.

Over 1,000 Troops Poised Near Border

OAS Group Seeks Greater Powers To Head Off Clash

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—More than 1,000 Dominican troops supported by tanks and rocket-firing combat planes massed near the Haitian border today awaiting orders to strike.

In Washington a peace mission for the Organization of American States was reported seeking wider powers to head off the threatened clash between the Dominican Republic and Haiti.

Situation "Highly Tense"
Describing the situation as "highly tense," Gonzalo Facio of Costa Rica, president of the OAS Council, called an executive session of the council to study the four-nation mission's report on its survey last week of the situation.

The Dominican troops were rushed to the border town of Jimani Sunday night amid unconfirmed rumors that President Juan Bosch would order an invasion unless Haitian President Francois Duvalier's regime made good on its promise to give safe conduct out of the country to 15 political opponents who took refuge in the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince.

One highly placed source said Bosch was ready to "use any excuse" to set off an armed clash with Duvalier's forces.

The Dominican charge d'affaires in Port au Prince, Frank Bobadilla, returned to Santo Domingo with a letter the Haitian political refugees had sent to all foreign diplomatic missions in Port au Prince.

May Invade Embassies

The letter quoted U.S. Ambassador Raymond Thurston as saying he had information Duvalier had ordered his civilian militia, the Tonton Macoute, to invade the embassies harboring opponents if his regime appeared threatened.

The letter added that Duvalier would kill the refugees if Haiti is invaded.

A former Haitian army officer said "Duvalier had gone quite berserk." The ex-officer, Louis Moise, hid in the Venezuelan Embassy in Port au Prince and arrived in Kingston, Jamaica, Sunday. He said there is a torture chamber in Duvalier's palace.

Duvalier broke diplomatic relations with the Dominican Republic last week, and the Dominican Embassy staff has returned home. Colombia has taken over the Haitian refugees in the Dominican Embassy.

Duvalier has declared martial law and imposed a night curfew.

Ohio Money Bill Before Senate

Funds To Operate State for 2 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee will begin hearings Wednesday on the big money bill of the 105th General Assembly—a measure appropriating $1.3 billion to run the state for the next two years.

Passage of the measure in about another month will signal the beginning of the end for the legislative session which began Jan. 7. The House approved the bill with bipartisan support last week.

The legislative week which starts tonight—the 18th—also will see some final Senate determination on whether there will be any action during this session on Sunday closing laws for retail business, a question which has been frustrating law enforcement officials, the courts and businessmen for several years.

The House has passed a bill which most senators apparently do not like. In general, it prohibits the sale of property on the Christian Sabbath but provides a detailed list of exemptions.

If the Senate passes any new law to resolve conflicting court decisions on Sunday closing laws, it probably will choose one offered by Sen. Kline L. Roberts, R-Franklin, which simply defines a Sunday sale as a common nuisance and provides fines for violations.

Meanwhile, both houses will be working in committee on two major pieces of legislation affecting working men. The House Industry and Labor Committee will delve into a Senate-approved bill

Bicyclist Hurt When Struck By Auto Here

A 17-year-old city bicyclist, struck by a car, was injured in one of three weekend traffic mishaps in Salem.

Treated at Central Clinic Hospital for abrasions of the right elbow and right foot was Donald Whaley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Whaley of 583 W. Pershing St. Whaley's bike was struck Saturday at 7:30 p.m. by a car operated by Harold J. Astry, 55, of 281 S. Broadway. Astry told police the youth rode the bike from his driveway into the path of the car, which knocked the youth to the pavement.

In another Saturday mishap at 2:45 p.m. a rear-end collision ended in the arrest of Lewis J. Catlos Jr., 20, of 1812 Maple St. on a charge of driving without the assured clear distance.

Catlos' car struck the rear of a car operated by William E. Steffel, 61, of 518 Park Ave., who was turning left near the intersection of E. State St. and Woodland Ave. Catlos swerved right too late to avoid the collision.

Sunday at 1:25 p.m. a vehicle driven by Francis D. Helman, 40, of 488 S. Union, who had just repaired a traffic signal at the intersection of E. State and Lundy St., was struck by a car operated by Sandy Sanor, 16, of RD 3, Salem.

Helman had just started out after repairing the light when Sanor pulled from the curb and hit the right front fender of Helman's vehicle.

4 Persons Fined $345 by Mayor

Four persons cited by city police over the weekend were fined a total of $345 and costs, and two of them were sentenced to jail by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

Another driver forfeited a bond. Fined $150 each and sentenced to three days in jail for drunk driving were Willis Peet, 53, of 960 Jefferson Ave. and Thomas W. Charnesky, 62, of Calla Road, Salem.

Carl Dudley, 18, of 382 S. Ellsworth Ave., was fined $25 for having no driver's license, and George W. Rouse, 63, of Alliance was fined $10 for intoxication and $10 for resisting arrest.

Lewis J. Catlos Jr., 20, of 1812 Maple St. forfeited a $15 bond for failure to stop as the aftermath of an accident on W. State St.

Kennedy administration's proposals aimed at insuring steady wheat prices while limiting production and eventually reducing large surpluses now held by the government.

The Grange has been advocating what it called a domestic parity program for wheat. Under this program, wheat would be divided into two classes—one for domestic food use and the other for export, feed and commercial uses. The food wheat would be supported at or near the parity price goal of farm programs and the other at whatever prices it could demand in the market.

The food wheat production would be apportioned among growers. The administration plan also would set up two classes of wheat, one for domestic food and export use and the other for feed and other uses. The food wheat would be supported in 964 at $2.00 a bushel and the other at $1.30.

Unlike the original Grange plan, the one being submitted to growers would set overall limits on production. Hershel D. Newsum, master of the Grange, told a news conference that limitations are necessary now because of the wheat surplus but would not have been needed had the Grange program been adopted during the mid-1950s. President Eisenhower vetoed legislation authorizing a plan along lines of the Grange proposal.

Busy Week Ahead for Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bills dealing with the national debt, the pay of military personnel, congressional junketing and postal service will keep Congress somewhat busier than usual this week.

All but the postal measure are on the House docket. That bill will give the taxpayers their first chance of 1963 to see if the Senate follows its usual practice of restoring appropriations cuts made by the House.

The $6-billion measure finances the Treasury and Post Office departments for the coming fiscal year. The House cut close to $150 million from funds requested by President Kennedy, almost half of the cut being in allotments for the Post Office Department's operations budget.

The Senate Appropriations Committee has voted to put back $77 million of the money denied by the House, and the Senate is expected to act on it.

Treated at Salem Central Clinic Hospital were the driver, Warren G. Rotzel, 43, of RD 5, who suffered contusions of the face, jaw, chest and clavicle, and his passenger, Robert Dixon, 34, of 1293 Maple St., who received contusions of the right shoulder and forearm.

Rockefeller, Bride at Honeymoon Retreat

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and his bride honeymooned today amid the idyllic beauty of his Venezuelan mountaintop ranch while debate continued back home on the effect of the marriage on his political future.

Rockefeller and his bride, the former Margaretta Fidler Murphy, arrived Sunday at his 1,235-acre Monte Sacro ranch about 110 miles southwest of Caracas.

The smiling couple flew to the honeymoon retreat by private plane after arriving in Caracas from New York on a commercial airliner. The New York governor said they expect to remain in Venezuela about two weeks.

It was drizzling when they landed and a shower of rice greeted the newlyweds as they stepped out of the plane.

Chatting in Spanish with newsmen, Rockefeller predicted his second marriage will be blissful. He said they decided to spend their honeymoon here "because we love Venezuela."

The governor, 54, and his bride, an attractive woman of 36, stood atop a wing of their private plane for the brief news conference.

Rockefeller, considered a leading candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, brushed aside questions about his political future.

He showed the same reticence as he left New York's Idlewild Airport telling newsmen there: "I know you would like to discuss politics with me, but I don't think this is the time or the place."

Light Vote Anticipated Here Tuesday

Salem is expected to register its lightest primary election vote Tuesday when Republicans decide two party contests and the Democrats sit it out, except for balloting on a 7.3-mill school levy renewal.

Democratic candidates are unopposed and will receive certificates of nomination after the primary is held.

The Republican contests are the race for solicitor between Atty. Thomas Coe, the incumbent, and Atty. Scott McCorkhill, former solicitor, and a Fourth Ward rivalry between former Council president Michael Schuller and Richard L. Cobourn, an estimator for the E. W. Bliss Co.

All other candidates are unopposed for their party's nomination for the election next November.

Voters in all wards and precincts of the city and Perry Township are eligible to ballot on the school levy.

Jaycees Set Dinner-Dance To Mark Silver Anniversary

An anniversary ball will highlight the silver anniversary celebration May 25 of the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce, president Ford Joseph announced today.

The ball and dinner will be held at the Elks Home at 824 E. State St. The celebration will begin at 6 p.m. with dancing from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. Steve Navojosky and his orchestra will furnish music.

Speaker for the evening will be Robert E. Hagan of Youngstown.

The local chapter of Jaycees was actually born May 20, 1938. The move to organize began on May 12 of that year when a group of young Salem men met with the Warren Jaycees to draw up the by-laws and constitution and put the wheels in motion for organization of the local group.

On May 19 the first organizational meeting was held and a call extended to all interested young men between the ages of 21 and 35. Sixty-five men responded to the call.

The first election was held May 20, 1938. J. Donald Guiley, who now lives in Anchorage, Alaska, was chosen first president. He was presented the charter by Philip Ebeling then Ohio Jaycee president, now a prominent Dayton lawyer.

In that first election the following men were chosen besides Guiley: William Eugene Young, first vice president; James Jackson, second vice president; Orein Naragon, treasurer; Deane Beck, secretary; and directors Lozier Caplan, Brooke Phillips, John Simpson, Richard Speidel and Ray Dean.

Joseph said all Jaycees, past and present, are invited to the celebration. Reservations may be made with Bill Lewis, 906 E. 6th St., until May 11.

How to Become a Champion

When 14-year-old Gary Barringer of East Liverpool won the regional spelling crown at Canton Friday night he brought back to Columbiana County the district spelling championship that has been held by other counties since 1956 when Curtice Loop of the Salem Junior High advanced to the National finals in Washington.

In addition to congratulating Gary, we would like to commend him for his perseverance which should be an example for other boys who need to be reminded occasionally that "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Now an eighth grader, Gary has been East Liverpool city spelling champ three times but it was only his second appearance in the Canton regional event. When he was in the fifth grade he won his city title but lost out in the county competition at Lisbon. Last year when the going looked good, he lost out in his own school and never reached the county finals. This year, more determined than ever and a bit sharper on his verbage, he made it!

More Laws Wouldn't Help

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has no more idea than the rest of us how to check the crime increase picking up momentum five times faster than the population.

As he rounds out his fourth decade of

Sen. Kuchel's Speech

California Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel's anti-hate-group speech is one of those conscience-clearing declarations legislators make every so often to clear the air. Sen. Kuchel, assistant Republican leader and sure of his job for the next six years, has problems with extremists in his state.

His mail sometimes runs as high as 10 per cent to fright items from what he calls "fright peddlers," he explains. America has enough immediate and deadly enemies without adding hobgoblins, he believes.

Yet, hobgoblins always will be with us. They thrive in the lunatic fringe of American political thought and action. Members of this fringe may be as sincere and patriotic as any other Americans. It may just happen to be their nature to polarize at extremes—the far right and the far left.

Numerically, they are helpless. Their extremism gets attention for them out of proportion to their political influence. The most dangerous thing they can do is swing the balance of power in a close contest, and it is only rarely they can do that.

Their existence cannot be ignored by politicians. They are gadflies on the steed of popular sovereignty, which permits all shades of opinion. If Sen. Kuchel feels he has more gadflies than even the special California climate can account for, he will do well to remember that never yet have the flies done irreparable injury to popular sovereignty.

They are infuriating because they never know when to stop, but as long as all the people have a say in government they cannot destroy freedom.

Salem and Music

This is National Music Week and locally a number of special musical programs, some of them coming at the close of last week to herald the observance, were designed to focus the minds of the general public on the value of good music. An enjoyable event was the Sunday afternoon concert at the First Methodist Church, sponsored by the Salem Music Study Club which succeeds so well along this line.

The theme this year is "Let the World Rejoice With Music," but unfortunately all the world does not rejoice. However, the many people who do appreciate fine music are more in harmony with their fellow man, are more relaxed and have their own lives enriched by music, which is nature's universal language of pleasurable communication. The popular wintertime local community concerts are further evidence of Salem citizens' fondness for music, something which means so much to all of us, whether it be National Music Week or one of the other 51 weeks of the year.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:
If and when wire-tapping ever gets the full sanction of law, only pay telephones should be tapped because in crime stories and movies the criminals always use them to avoid detection. Some other fascinating conversations also would be overheard, like: "Okay Mom, the movie is over and you can come and pick up in the car."

Two unforgettable characters: One was a guy who always did things the wrong way and bragged that he had been in 20 jails, and the other was a justice of the peace in a state which still has such justices. The bad guy hardly ever did anything to hurt anyone but himself; he was the sort who assumed rules were there to be broken and if there was a wrong way to do something he could find that way. These two fellows were side by side in beds in a hospital ward. The justice of the peace was whiling away time by making a leather wallet and one day called over another patient to his bed and said: "I'm making this wallet to hold all the money I am going to fine this chap in the next bed if he ever gets in my jurisdiction when we get out of here."

Two things you can't hardly find any more in stories: Gyroscopes and those fancy little gadgets for sharpening double-edged safety razor blades. We thought a gyroscope would be especially interesting to play with in this age of space and inertial guidance, but the first one we got didn't work and neither did its replacement.

This strange parallel can't be carried one step further without falling apart, but back

FBI service, he knows only there has been a deterioration of popular responsibility for law enforcement. Too many people have assumed the attitude that social discipline is for the other fellow to worry about; that it's none of their business.

All of us can point to evidence in this direction.

Parents expect teachers and policemen to ride herd on their maverick children.

Individuals recount with pride how they break the law and aren't caught.

Children grow up in many instances believing they are duty-bound to carry on a cold war with the law.

IN A NATION that considers it smart to break rules and not get caught it should not be surprising that rules-breakers do not stop with beanballs, gouging, holding, light-crashing and taking money under the table.

A generation of law-breakers with specialties like mugging, aggravated assault, premeditated murder, forcible rape, burglary, larceny and auto theft can be counted on to be followed by still worse and more of it.

The harsh truth is, no one knows what to do about a rising crime rate. It would do no good to enact more laws. They wouldn't be enforced any better than the existing laws.

CURES that pop from the lively minds of do-gooders and social quacks wouldn't make a dent in the ever-growing crime rate. Improvement would take a massive change of social attitude, and no one knows how to make it happen.

It would entail conscience-searching by every individual, starting with you, the reader of this editorial, plus millions of personal resolutions to do nothing that could worsen the national scandal of a crime rate picking up runaway momentum in the absence of any known means of slowing it down.

The School Levy

Voters' renewal of a 7.3-mill school levy at the polls Tuesday will make it possible for the Salem Board of Education to continue its present good educational program.

The levy, actually, is a renewal of a 5.4-mill operating levy that was renewed twice in the last 10 years, plus the 1.9-mill operating levy which was voted for the first time in 1958 to provide for the operation of the new Salem Senior High School. It is not a tax increase.

At the present estimated evaluation of $48,000,000 this 7.3-mill operating levy renewal provides 24 per cent of the board's 1963 appropriation of $1,463,657 which is $31,731 less than was expended in 1962. Also as a result of the re-valuation this levy will provide $19,000 more in 1964 than in 1963. This amount will help to offset an estimated decrease of approximately $42,000 from the state support in 1964 which results from state foundation program calculations based upon the new evaluation figures, school officials point out.

in the 19th century, old King Alfonso XIII of Spain probably said, "I don't know how long we can tolerate that revolutionary republican government just 90 miles off the shores of Cuba."

Speaking of the horse and buggy era and the present farm surplus: Mechanization of farms not only enabled a man to produce more but freed about three more acres a year per horse for production of human food because those acres formerly were required to provide food for a horse. If you add up all the horses displaced by tractors, you get a lot of farm acres opened up for regular crops.

We just got two new thingumajigs which promise to brighten our summer (A small emery wheel which fits on an electric drill, and a tree lopper—a pruning device on a long stick. All the knives, hatchets and mower blades around here are going to take a beating, and so are the shrubs and trees out in the yard.

Just to beat you to it, I hereby say that it looks like another good year for dandelions.

Critics of the present leader of France, who has a knack for upsetting international applectarts, have coined a phrase: "As bitter as Gaulle."

There is nothing like a heavy rainstorm or snowstorm to quiet a barking dog. Bad weather keeps the pooch in its doghouse. Kind of a counter-irritant.

Faithfully yours
Max

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The administration has decided to take a new line against the critics of its Cuban policy. It is to

David Lawrence
said in a panel discussion at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention last week that accuse them of wanting to plunge the United States into a nuclear war.

McGeorge Bundy, presidential adviser on foreign policy, said in a panel discussion at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention last week that the only alternatives to the present policy toward Cuba are a naval quarantine or military invasion. He added:

"Honest critics should say whether they prefer these acts of war to the Kennedy policy."

Judging by speeches in a similar vein by Democrats in Congress, it begins to look as if the administration is preparing to apply a "Kept Us Out of War" slogan in the next political campaign if Cuba persists as a major issue — as seems likely, based on the widespread discussion of it among member of both political parties.

But the "Kept Us Out of War" concept is the most dangerous of all political gimmicks, as it can bring on the very war that nobody wants. Back in 1916, the Democrats won a presidential election with the cry that President Wilson had "Kept Us Out of War."

Mr. Wilson never used the slogan himself in his campaign speeches or claimed it as an accomplishment of his administration but within six months after his election, the United States was forced into World War I.

Historians can attest that the miscalculation by the Kaiser's government was based on the assumption that American public opinion would restrain the American government from going to war under any circumstances.

THE GERMAN government had for more than a year refrained from torpedoing any merchant ships carrying American citizens. America's strong protest over the sinking of the Lusitania had brought about this forbearance on the part of Germany. But after the American presidential campaign had taken on virtually a "Peace at Any Price" complexion, the militarists in Berlin decided to take a chance. They torpedoed unarmed ships on which Americans were traveling, and it did lead to war.

The same kind of situation arose in the 1930s in Europe. Prime Minister Chamberlain had given the impression that he feared any war. Hitler, in starting his war against Poland in September 1939, took it for granted that Britain wouldn't fight.

President Kennedy made it very clear last October that he wouldn't hesitate to use military force to get rid of the Soviet missiles in Cuba.

His firm attitude brought about the withdrawal of many of the missiles. This country experienced a war scare and breathed a sigh of relief when the Soviet government apparently backed down.

But, as is characteristic of the Communists, the maneuver was merely a test. There is no evidence now that the Soviets intend to give up Cuba as a military base where they can maintain many thousands of troops and technicians and keep a measure of control over a government in this hemisphere, only 90 miles from the territory of the United States.

NATURALLY, this has caused much anxiety. Some Democratic senators have been as vehement in their criticism as Republicans. But the administration has not been able to clear up the situation and gives no indication that military measures will be applied to drive the Soviet military apparatus out of Cuba.

The President's advisers take the position that any such drastic steps would bring on a big war. Will this, however, encourage the Soviets to continue their aggressive position?

Will they miscalculate and compel a showdown that really could bring on a war?

These are the serious questions that are arising now, and it is in this context that comments from Mr. Kennedy's advisers about the awfulness of war can have a meaning in Moscow which is certainly not intended by anyone in a position of responsibility in the Washington government.

On top of it all — as Castro is received with enthusiasm in Moscow by Khrushchev—a speech is delivered by the Soviet minister of defense accusing the United States of carrying on "a policy of aggressions and provocation toward Cuba, supporting and encouraging the piratical activities of enemies of the Cuban people."

Strangely enough, the American government's spokesmen have failed to make strong speeches denouncing the aggressive acts and purposes of the Soviet Union which were revealed when the United States by aerial surveillance discovered missiles planted in Cuba and aimed at this country.

Instead, the comments emanating from the administration are concerned wholly with a fear that the use of force to assure American rights would be displeasing to the Soviets and could bring war.

THE ATMOSPHERE today seems to be one of "Peace at Any Price." Though strong words were used several months ago, the tendency now is to accept the situation with respect to the continued presence in Cuba of Soviet troops and to bear with it indefinitely.

The big question now is whether the current complacency here will stimulate the Moscow government to become more aggressive in Cuba and elsewhere by reason of its confidence that the United States is either afraid to retaliate or will not wish to do so at least until after the next presidential election when the campaign on a policy of "Peace at Any Price" has run its course.

In 1822, Congress abolished trading houses for Indians. It also authorized President James Monroe to appoint a superintendent of Indian affairs.

In 1502, Sir James Tyrrell was executed in the Tower of London as the alleged murderer of King Edward V of England and Richard, the Duke of York.

In 1626, Peter Minuit bought the Island of Manhattan from the Indians.

Texas In Political Transition

From the Files

By RAYMOND MOLEY

This is written after two crossings on the highways of Texas within the past three weeks. The first was over the northwest corner, the second from El Paso to the northeast corner. In the course of those travels, politically sophisticated Texans convinced me that the state is not just trying to establish a two-party system. It already has one.

A well-informed editor said: "I have anticipated for some years that Texas would have a strong Republican party. But it has come sooner than I expected. There is scarcely an office of any importance in the state for which it can be assumed that a Democrat is sure to be elected."

"For a time the political struggle was between the conservative and liberal wings of the Democratic party. Now conservatives, especially the young people are turning to the Republican party."

While I was in Texas a small newspaper story said that a Republican had been chosen mayor by the city council of Fort Worth. This event passed almost unnoticed. Ten years ago, it would have attracted almost as much attention as the election of a Jewish mayor of Dublin.

THREE WEEKS AGO, a Republican was elected to the legislature in a by-election in Corpus Christi. The new member will find several Republicans already there.

Two members of the Texas delegation in the House of Representatives in Washington are Republican: Bruce Alger, who already has veteran status, and Ed Foreman of Odessa, who was elected last year. John Tower represents Texas in the Senate.

Peter O'Donnell, Jr., state chairman, is seeking to achieve for the state what he has built up in Dallas over the last 10 years.

Democratic Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, who must run for reelection next year, shows signs of panic. He was elected by the liberal wing of the Democratic party in Texas at a time when that group was considerably stronger than it is now.

While the Kennedy administration finds kinship with Yarborough's liberalism, it must be careful not to offend Vice President Lyndon Johnson who, while he makes verbal gestures toward all Democrats, is more clearly identified with the conservative Democrats.

The new governor, John B. Connally, Jr., is moderately conservative. If Yarborough wins in the primary against conservative opponents, many may well turn to the Republican candidate in the election.

A long time ago, the now 94-year-old and little noted John Nance Garner told me that there would never be a Republican party in Texas until Republicans began to capture county offices. There, he said, is the solid core of the Democratic party in Texas.

Already the Republican party is making gains in rural areas.

THE RURAL INFLUENCE is weakening. For 75 per cent of the population of Texas is in urban areas. This compares with 7 per cent in Michigan. The balance of power is already shifting to the cities and their growing suburbs. And there, in every statewide election Republicans either have a majority or are nearing it.

In Houston I was told that the greatest Republican gains are among younger voters. Texas students ever since the war have been leaning to conservatism. Now they are turning to the Republican party as the best party alternative for conservatives. Peter O'Donnell himself is only 38, and Sen. John Tower is very popular in his state.

The editor quoted above said that this drift to Republicanism has little to do with the integration-segregation issue. For Texas has been a leader among Southern states in accepting the fact of integration. Schools are admitting qualified Negroes. Public facilities, except in certain counties, are open to both races. In short, the racial issue has little or nothing to do with political trends.

AMONG THE YOUNGER people of Texas there is a feeling that after a century it is about time to forget the issues which brought about a one-party system in the South.

The issues which are debated in political campaigns in Texas are substantially those which are used by Republicans in Wisconsin, Michigan, or Illinois.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: So it's the woman who pays, is it? Not always.

In 1962 my salary was $25,000 plus a generous bonus. In 1963 I will make $15,000 after several months of unemployment in Chicago—and then only because of the loyalty of an old friend who is also a disgraced exile from New York.

The reason? A woman who accepted luxuries, love and swore she'd wait forever for God to free him so they could marry and enjoy their love publicly.

After two years she changed her mind and insisted he get a divorce and marry her or she would ruin him. He refused.

The woman then set about harassing him at home with telephone calls at all hours of the night. She gathered every scrap of evidence carefully collected over the two years—the cards, notes, letters and pictures. She handed it over to the president of the company. He lost his job.

The woman has been promoted in the firm and is doing better than ever. And the word is around that she is now the mistress of another executive.

The woman pays? Not always.

FOOL.
Dear Fool: You got yours, Bub—double in spades. But what makes you think she is home free?

The jury still is out on that doll. Check her in about five years—if she's still around, that is.

Steady of the Week

Dear Ann: I am the mother of three pre-teens who follows your column closely. You make a lot of sense most of the time but your views on going steady need clarifying.

The phrase "going steady" does not mean the same thing to all people. When I was in high school (13 years ago) "going steady" meant virtually engaged. Today it can mean the boy-girl combination that works best that week.

The most nerve-shredding example I can give you occurred yesterday. Our 10-year-old daughter, Dora, came home from school and announced that she and Freddie, the freckle-faced kid (also age 10) who lives next door are "going steady."

I was shocked at this statement, and asked, "What do you mean, going steady?—Where do you go?" Dora replied, "Oh we don't really go any place, mother. He just hits me during recess."

I hope I've made my point.—DAVENPORT MOTHER.

Dear Mother: "From the mouths of babes. . ." Some married people have the same way.

Warning Unheeded

Dear Ann: I fell desperately in love with a divorced man. Two weeks before we were to be married his former wife telephoned and asked me to have lunch with her. She had heard I was a fine young woman and wanted to "do me a favor." I agreed out of sheer curiosity.

How surprised I was at her refined and soft-spoken manner. She was extremely intelligent and didn't fit his description of her. I listened for three hours as she outlined her 14 years of marriage, described his excessive drinking, violent outbursts of temper and women on the side—including a 17-year-old baby sitter.

I told myself she was lying and I discounted everything she had said. Now, after two years of marriage everything that happened to her has happened to me. A woman who wants to learn all about a divorced man should talk to his ex-wife. Who knows better than she?—ALSO AN AUTHORITY.

Dear Also: The woman who has been there is bound to know something that a future wife never can know. Such information might be useful, but who listens?

Anniversary Waltz

Dear Ann: My husband and I will celebrate our 25th wedding anniversary next month. Many of our friends and relatives have offered to give parties for us but my husband and I would prefer to entertain them rather than have them entertain us.

I am not being avaricious — just practical—when I tell you I know we will receive many lovely gifts. Since this will be the silver anniversary I can see it now—silver platters, silver dishes, silver ash trays, candlestick holder, candy dishes, cigarette boxes. The list is endless. All silver means to me is hours of polishing and I dread the thought of it.

Would it be improper if I wrote on the invitations, "No Silver Please"? Thank you.—THE BIG 25.

Dear Big: It would be in poor taste to write such a message on the invitation. No reference, to a gift should be made on any invitation.

You may pass the word quietly among your close friends that you don't want silver but don't make a mass production type of announcement, please.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Choice of Screening Depends On Needs of Homeowner

Beating the bugs is the primary purpose of screening materials. But don't overlook secondary uses such as providing privacy, shade and an inexpensive means of enclosing porch or patio. For most of us though, screens are something put up every spring, taken down every fall and patched, painted or cleaned somewhere along the line.

Building Permits

Permits have been issued in City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff's offices in recent days for two new houses and for other construction and repair.

Permits granted were for: A house with five rooms and bath on Oak St. for Gene Zilay costing $15,000; A residence with three bedrooms, bath, kitchen, living room and dining room on Jennings Ave. for Richard Lippitt of RD 4, Salem, $13,000;

Siding repair at the Nelson Marks home, 913 Home Circle, $250;

Aluminum siding for Mary Weikart home, 937 S. Lundy Ave., $2,280;

Double garage at 1275 E. Ninth St. for H. G. Pelton of 1247 N. Lincoln Ave., $1,000.

For more money you can purchase anodized or specially coated aluminum which has greater resistance to corrosion.

Aluminum screening is rather stiff, so be careful about bending it or denting it. It is difficult to repair once bent.

Fiber Screen Screening of glass fiber is also relatively new. It doesn't corrode, even in salt air and, like aluminum, is nearly maintenance free. It is light, extremely flexible and easy to handle. Fastening can be accomplished with staples or acetate-base adhesive.

The screening picks up airborne dirt easily but can be cleaned by hosing or wiping with a damp sponge.

The old standards—galvanized, bronze and copper screening are still around, too.

Less Expensive Galvanized screen is a good deal less expensive than either aluminum or glass fiber, and if you are renting or planning to use the screening only temporarily, this may be the type for you.

If you live in a dry climate, you will find galvanized screening quite durable. Wherever you live, paint galvanized screening every year or two.

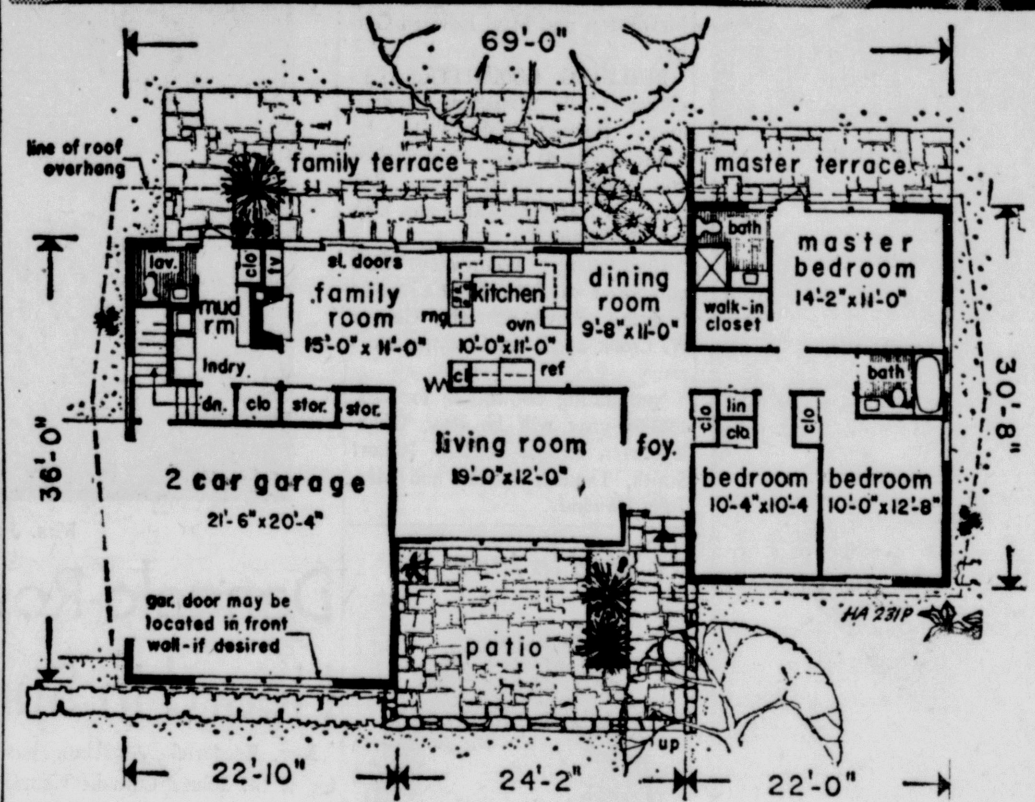

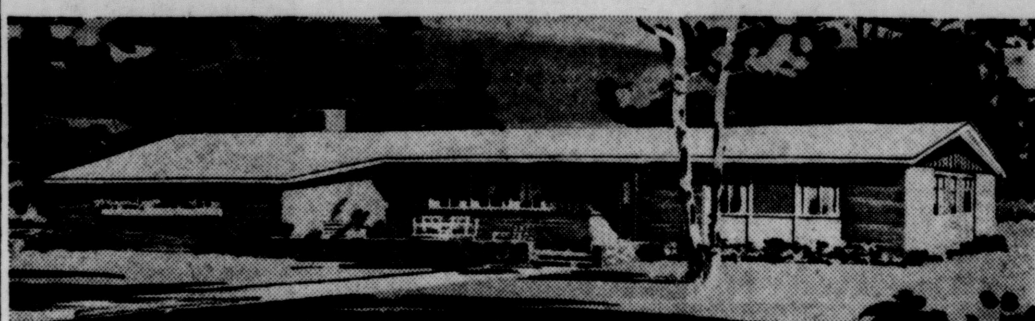

Copper and bronze screening are quite expensive, even more expensive than most grades of aluminum or glass fiber. While they are nonrusting, they should be coated periodically with spar varnish because of oxidation. Stains from oxidation wash down on painted surfaces below.

Varnish Job If you varnish, thin the finish with equal amounts of linseed oil and turpentine. Wash the screening first with benzene or other solvent.

Varnish can also be used on galvanized screening instead of paint.

Brushing clogs the openings in screens. Special applicators are available or make your own by tacking a piece of carpet to a block of wood.

THE LONG, SIMPLE ROOFLINE of this ranch provides visual elegance as well as an 8 foot 8 inch ceiling in the living area. A full laundry is on the main floor of the home, using back-to-back plumbing with the laundry. A window lets in light for the stairway to the basement. Improper Use Most Often Cause of Breaking Pliers

Familiarity breeds contempt with the most common of hand tools—the hammer, the screwdriver and the pliers. Widely used, even by the householder who has no workshop, these tools also are widely abused. In addition to being used incorrectly by most persons, they are constantly being pressed into service for tasks for which they were not designed.

IT IS LIKELY THAT MORE pliers are damaged by being used for hammering than from any other single cause. Professional workmen place a high value on pliers. They know that, properly used, pliers are extremely durable. The good mechanic not only has more than one pair of pliers ready for instant use; he has the right kind. Having the right kind is important, because each type is manufactured with specific uses in mind. The intended uses often are ignored by many persons.

WHEN THEY GO OUT TO buy pliers, they purchase whatever kind happens to strike their fancy. They may select the cheapest pair, or the most expensive, or the shiniest or the prettiest, if pliers can be called pretty. Seldom is the choice made on the basis of the demands of the jobs for which they will be used.

The home handyman can not be expected to keep a large selection of pliers on hand. Yet if he does very much repair work, he would be foolish not to have at least two or three pairs. He will get maximum benefit from whatever he has by buying the right kind in the first place.

JUST WHAT IS THE right kind? That depends on the type of work the handyman does most. For a variety of holding or gripping projects, the slip joint pliers are best. For handling flat objects, the duck bill type is necessary. Since there are more than 100 different kinds of pliers, it would be impractical to list them all. But what we are trying to do is impress upon you the necessity of being a little selective in the purchase of pliers.

Ask your dealer's advice in choosing the right kind for the work you do most of the time. And if your work is so general that no one or two specialized types will fill your needs, look over the newer models which can handle several different operations.

TO GET THE BEST USE from pliers, hold the top handle in the palm of the hand well up against open the pliers quickly.

An occasional drop of oil in the joint will keep pliers working freely. A rubdown with an oily rag after use will help to prevent rust. If the pliers are rusty already, soak them in kerosene for a couple of days and rub with steel. One of the rust-removing materials now on the market will do a quicker job of restoring the pliers to a workable condition.

Air Conditioners Step Up Comfort

Here's what to expect from this year's room air conditioners:

A wide variety of models to meet specific cooling problems. Plenty of cooling power in a slim, trim, decorator-styled package.

Quiet operation.

There are two basic types of room air conditioners available today. The most familiar fits in a window. The other is essentially the same, but is installed through the wall of a house, leaving windows free. Both come in a wide range of cooling capacities—from under 5,000 BTU to more than 30,000 BTU. British thermal unit (BTU) is the quantity of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water one degree Fahrenheit.

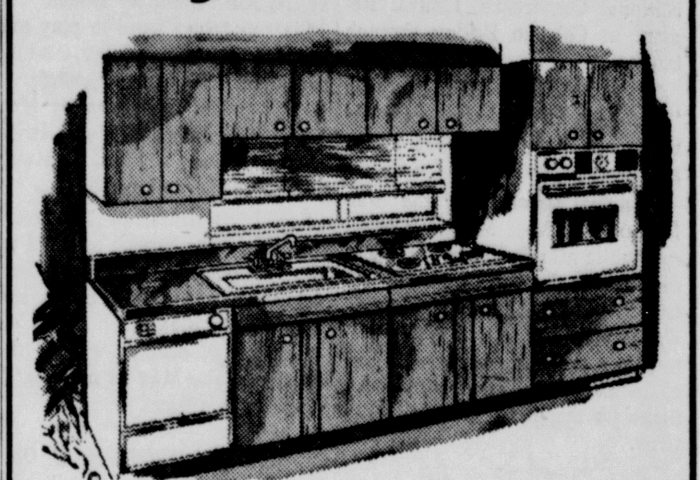

The best way for a family to make sure it is buying a room air conditioner with the right cooling capacity is to turn the problem over to an appliance dealer.

To help him estimate the required cooling capacity, he should be told the measurements of the area to be cooled, the use made of the room, exposure of outside walls, number and size of windows, whether insulation is used, and the type of electric circuits—115 or 230 volts.

The basic tasks of any room air conditioner are to cool the air, circulate and filter it, and to maintain a comfortable relative humidity. However, many models provide other features. These include controls to admit fresh air, special systems for directing air flow, and an exhaust cycle that is often used during cooler weather to clear stale air from a room. Other models are designed with extra capacity to wring excess moisture from the air. These are ideal for damp basement areas.

LEAVES BOND IN LISBON

LISBON — Clifford R. Hill, 18, of Wooster forfeited a $100 bond Sunday in Mayor Dean Stockman's court when he failed to appear at a hearing for driving while his license was under revocation. Dangelo-Rose Vows Heard In Summitville

Rev. Frederick Anzivino, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church at Summitville, officiated at the 10:30 a.m. nuptial high Mass April 27 in the sanctuary of the church uniting in marriage Miss Mary M. Dangelo and Jack G. Rose.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dangelo of Summitville, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose of Cambridge are parents of the bridegroom.

The altar was decorated with fernery and vases of calla lilies and snapdragons. Mrs. Charles Gaul was vocalist and nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Josephine Engle.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace with sculptured bodice boasting a Sabrina neckline with sequin and pearl detail, and long tulle sleeves. Tiers of tulle and lace graced the back of the full hooped skirt and motifs of lace inserts trimmed the front. Her bouffant waist length veil was caught to a crown of tiny tulle leaves trimmed with delustered sequins and pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of which centered the white linen white carnations and pink roses centered with an orchid. Miss Jane Gulla was maid of honor and Miss Nancy Sterner was bridesmaid. Both were attired in street length dresses of satapeau. Miss Gulla in powder blue and Miss Sterner in soft pink. Their pill box hats matched their dresses and they carried colonial bouquets of matching carnations. Kimberly Greco, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a lace floor length gown styled like that of the bride.

Frank Gallagher was best man and Joseph Dangelo, cousin of the bride, Peter Dangelo and James Dangelo ushered. Michael Dangelo, brother of the bride, carried the rings.

The bride's mother wore a dress of rose rayon and Mrs. Rose a gown of pale pink taffeta. Both complemented their costumes with corsages of white carnations. Following the ceremony a dinner for the wedding party and families was served in the church social room where the reception was held from 3 to 6 p.m.

Vases of flowers surrounded the four tier wedding cake topped with miniature bridal figurine which centered the white linen covered bride's table lighted with pink and white tapers.

Miss Doris Beki registered the 150 guests.

Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Ray Costigan, Mrs. Russell Reeder, Mrs. John Marhefka, Mrs. Charles Tepsic, Mrs. Frank Clark and Coletta Kelly.

Following a honeymoon to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania the couple will reside in Canton where Mr. Rose is employed as service station attendant. The bride is employed as a practical nurse by Canton Timken Mercy Hospital.

uistic ignorance.

FRENCH IS A MUST for all, a required program instituted four years ago when the Board of Education hired Mrs. Roberta Woodall, wife of the Presbyterian minister and former high school French teacher, to teach elementary French.

Her classes are a pure delight. One moment the tots are learning to count in French as a classmate bounces a red rubber ball on the floor, or they spin a numbered dial and give the number in French. Then they dance while singing a French song such as "Frere Jacques," going through appropriate motions that require a knowledge of the language.

But the high point of the 20-minute weekly session for first and second level students is the storytelling. They sit enthralled as the spirited Mrs. Woodall acts out the familiar tale of "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," for example, with the aid of a flannel board.

Placing the felt animals on the board, Mrs. Woodall begins Voici Papa ours (bear), et Mama ours et... Le Petit enfant chime in the children gleefully.

Giggles, impish laughter and handclapping fill the room as Madame Woodall pantomimes over the disappointments and delights of Goldilocks as she tries in succession the beds, chairs, and porridge of Papa bear, Mama bear and Baby Bear.

For the beginning children, the French is not much. But it is a start, an introduction to a new world of sound. As the years wear on, the lessons become increasingly more difficult.

"Teaching French to the youngsters help them to know early that there are other languages and peoples in the world besides English and Americans," Mrs. Woodall said.

THE CHILDREN KEEP IN practice at home and in the playground, puzzling parents with "merci," "de rien," "donnez moi," etc. Seldom is their teacher greeted with "Good morning, Mrs. Woodall," or "good night, Mrs. Woodall." It is "Bonjour, Madame Woodall" or "Bon nuit."

So convinced was one little seven-year old of Madame Woodall's Frenchness that she confided to her mother that she never speaks to her teacher in English, only French, since it is French only that she understands.

The first and second years consist of one 20-minute period. In the third and fourth years, 20-minute weekly sessions are offered followed by three weekly sessions in the fifth and sixth years.

French becomes optional in Junior high and is taught by Miss Helene Flaud, a native of France who has been at Leetonia the past year. About two-thirds of the seventh and eighth graders elect to take French, Scanlon says.

Oral, conversational French is stressed. Children seldom see any French words, except in a few optional library books, until they are in fifth grade. Then Mrs. Woodall uses commercially prepared French flash cards with fragments of sentences to help the children learn to combine clauses and phrases.

A small French library of juvenile books is in the process of formation. Books aimed at the elementary child were at first hard to come by; they simply were not published because of lack of demand.

Now with more emphasis on languages across the nation, they are slowly pouring off the printing presses of children's book publishing houses.

Always resourceful and on the lookout for new gimmicks to train her charges, Mrs. Woodall, faced with the book shortage, concluded there was more than one way to skin a cat. Taking a beginning child's animal book, she cut out the large letters in English used to accompany the pictures. Then she wrote in the French equivalent, making a perfectly good French lesson for her students at little cost.

Death Mars Nasser Visit To Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—The death of Algeria's foreign minister and the worst Nile River tragedy in modern history cast gloom today over the triumphal visit to Algeria of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Festivities in Nasser's honor were called off as the Algerian government proclaimed a day of national mourning for Mohamed Khemisti, the foreign minister. Khemisti, 33, died Sunday, 24 days after a fanatic assassin fired a bullet into his head.

Egyptian villagers mourned 218 people who drowned Saturday when an overloaded ferry capsized near Maghagha, on the Upper Nile.

Authorities said 90 bodies were recovered and another 126 people, mostly women and children, were missing. The tragedy was the worst on the Nile since a steamer sank near Cairo in 1912, killing 200.

A political split in Syria also clouded Nasser's mission to drum up Algerian support for Arab unity.

Nasser would like to include Algeria in the new United Arab Republic which Egypt, Syria and Iraq have agreed to form next September. But the Ba'ath Socialists froze pro-Nasser elements out of the Syrian government last week, and there is general doubt that Nasser will join with Syria if it is dominated by the Ba'athists.

Cairo newspapers carried a statement from Nasser's government Sunday that the Syrian split is a dangerous threat to the Arab cause.

Although Algerian crowds hailed Nasser as "El Rais" (The Chief) on his triumphal arrival here Saturday, Khemisti's death served as a grim reminder of the difficulties in the path of Arab unity. Khemisti was shot shortly after he returned from the Middle East, which he criticized to friends and newsmen. He did not hide that he preferred cooperation with France for his country.

Also scheduled for hearings this week are bills to make additional appropriations of about $2.5 million for education and another $11 million for welfare purposes to meet obligations for the bookkeeping year which ends June 30. The House Finance Committee hearings will wind up that body's consideration of major money measures for this session.

Also up for Finance Committee consideration is a bill by Rep. Robert C. Winzler Sr., R - Williams, appropriating $40,000 for a study of a proposed pipeline to carry Lake Erie water to normally parched Northwestern Ohio.

A grass blaze and an auto fire scare were all that marred the scene at the fire station over the weekend.

A car spinning its wheel at a S. Broadway parking lot Saturday night at 10:18 nearly caught fire, and fireman answered the scare call.

cial sessions were held on the relationships of administrators, elementary teachers, secondary teachers and parents to gifted children.

Most schools consider children with an IQ of 130 as "gifted" although special consideration is also given to those musically or artistically gifted whose IQ may not be exceptional.

Salem Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith says about two percent of the school population is classed as academically gifted.

Dr. Abraham advocated an extended year and extended day for school children, a trend opposite to a proposal of the labor unions for a shorter work day and year.

He told the educators that schools must respect the non-conformity of the gifted child and must keep up on research on these talented people if progress is to be made.

Sociological Factor

There may be unrecognized gifted children whose talents are not obvious because of their cultural or sociological background. Dr. Abraham advised teachers to be on the alert for these pupils with good potential, but who may not have the advantage of a high sociological status.

He lauded the ungraded school system as the trend of the future and proposed a flexible school entry time. Promising, academically talented children should be permitted to enter earlier than is possible in most states, he said.

walked from the New Pilgrim Baptist church, about one mile south of the spot where marches were broken up by fire hoses and police dogs Friday and Saturday.

Police blocked off the street Birmingham's major east-west artery. Fire trucks pulled up and hoses were laid out. Police dogs were brought in but were kept in the cars.

After their leaders had announced the march was to city jail where several hundred Negroes are in custody, the marchers moved more than three blocks.

They were halted on orders of Connor.

"Do not let them go past this corner," the commissioner shouted to an officer.

When asked if the fire hoses should be brought into play, Connor said: "Hold it. Let's give them another chance. Captain, ask them to leave again."

The unidentified captain talked with a Negro who said the crowd wanted to go into a park across the street and about 300 yards from the jail.

The Negroes were told they could enter the park after the officer talked with Connor. They filed across the street, formed up facing the jail, then sang and prayed.

As they began moving back toward the church, some of several hundred Negro spectators nearby cheered raucously. The park is in a predominantly Negro section.

Apparently his chief target now is Clement Barbot, organizer of the Tonton Macoute and an underground leader.

An uneasy calm was reported in Port au Prince. The U.S. Embassy warned Americans to stay off the streets during curfew hours. Nervous Haitians whispered rumors of continuing arrests.

pected to follow the committee's recommendations.

No other major measures are on the Senate calendar for the week, but a House-passed feed grains bill may be ready for action late in the week.

The House starts its week today by considering several minor measures. Tuesday it plans to send to the Senate a bill that would put standard government personnel expense ceilings on the expense accounts of congressmen who travel abroad. Indications are that the Senate may not take too kindly to the proposal.

The perennial bill authorizing a temporary hike in the national debt ceiling and a measure to raise the pay of military personnel about $1 billion a year round out the House program except for several non-controversial bills.

Others believed Rockefeller's emergence into a new life of happiness with an attractive wife might enhance his popularity.

Rockefeller was divorced March 16, 1962, after 31 years of marriage, by Mary Todhunter Clark Rockefeller, 55, like her successor a product of Philadelphia society. The couple had five children, but one son, Michael, was lost on an expedition near the New Guinea coast shortly after the governor and his wife separated.

Mrs. Murphy obtained a divorce in Idaho on April 1 from Dr. James S. Murphy, 41, a medical researcher for the Rockefeller Institute. They have four children, aged 3 to 12.

Passengers accompanying the Rockefellers on the flight from New York said they held hands for a while after a steak and champagne lunch. They read New York newspaper accounts of their wedding Saturday at the Rockefeller family estate in Pocantico Hills, in New York's Westchester County, and exchanged comments on photographs of them.

Indians Edge Angels 4-3 For Fourth Straight Victory

Joe Adcock Belts Homer Tribe Starts Series With Senators Next

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Has Birdie Tebbetts' mixture of rookies and seasoned veterans finally jelled? Are the Indians for real? Suddenly the Cleveland Indians are getting good pitching when it is needed and hits where they are needed.

The Tribe has four straight wins under its collective belt.

The team that sank to within a hair of last place in the American League May 1 has bounced up to sixth place with a 9-9 record.

The Indians tomahawked the Los Angeles Angels in three week-end games, displacing the Angels in sixth place Sunday with a 4-3 victory.

Dick Donovan, the Tribe's ace righthander, held the Angels to four hits over eight innings but needed help from Barry Latman in the ninth to nail his second victory of the season.

The Angels loaded the bases with nobody out in the ninth inning. After one run came in, making the score 4-3, Donovan went out and Latman took over.

Barry got Tom Satriano to fly out to center field, ending the rally.

The Indians got seven hits off Bo Belinsky (1-4), including a home run by Joe Adcock in the second inning.

The Indians picked up two more runs in the sixth when Doc Edwards and Vic Davalillo hit doubles and Willie Kirkland rapped a single.

A single by Tito Francona and a double by Max Alvis gave the Indians their final run in the seventh.

Jack Kralick may get his first start for the Indians Tuesday at Washington. Tebbetts said he will use either Kralick, obtained from Minnesota in a trade for Jim Perry, or Sam McDowell.

Cardinal Mooney 2nd With 33 Salem Juniors Win Struthers Track Meet With 35 1/2 Points

Unbeaten, but once tied Salem Junior High swept to its season's most outstanding performance by capturing the Struthers Invitational track and field meet Saturday.

Coach Bing Newton's aggregation put forth a fine team effort while compiling 35 1/2 points. Cardinal Mooney collected 33 markers to take second place and Struthers finished in third place with 30.

Jim Miller, who won the 880-yard run for Salem, almost missed the race. He was still in the Quakers' bus when the second of three heats in the half mile runs got underway.

He went on to capture the event in the fine time of two minutes, 15 seconds. It was one of two firsts for Salem in the meet.

Mike Hary of Salem set his school record in pole vault when he cleared 9 feet, 9 inches. The old mark was 9 feet, 8 1/2 inches set by Frank Fitch last year. His teammate Joe Judge placed fifth.

Other events in which the Quakers placed two men, were 100-yard dash, and 220-yard dash.

Joe Burns of Cardinal Mooney was the only double winner, sprinting to victory in both sprints.

Struthers' Ed Craft was given a trophy for scoring the most points by an individual during the meet. He finished with 12 1/2.

Jim Lantz of Salem managed to heave the discus 111 feet, 2 inches. He placed fourth in the meet, but the toss smashed the school mark of 108 feet, 1/2 inches set by Tom Bauman in 1961.

Other teams scoring points included Poland 27, Boardman 17 1/2, Fitch 16, Hubbard 14, Akron 13, Ursuline 7, and Farrell 3. Several other schools entered failed to score. The top five teams were awarded trophies.

Nicklaus' 273 Cops Tourney By 5 Strokes Salem Places 10th In Mentor Relays

By BOB MYERS Associated Press Sports Writer LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, who owns virtually all the prized possessions of the golfing game as well as the most dollars for the year—has unpleasant news for his fellow gentlemen of the greens.

He isn't even at his peak yet. Jack, richer by $13,000 after his almost casual victory in the $60,000 Tournament of Champions Sunday, was asked if he thinks he is at the top of his game.

Eyebrows raised in surprise, he exclaimed: "I certainly hope not. I feel and hope I can improve."

"A man wants to improve at anything he does. That's how I feel about my future in golf."

Nicklaus capped his brilliant rounds of 64-68-72 with a 69 Sunday. He won the Las Vegas classic by five strokes with a 72-hole score of 273. 15 strokes under par.

Bill Casper Jr. was forced to withdraw because of a swollen, aching left hand after eight holes so Nicklaus' closest competitors were Arnold Palmer, the former king of the pros, and Tony Lema, who came in with a 66 to tie with Palmer at 278.

Palmer finished with a 68, but said, "I had a very unimpressive round. I was scrambling. I had quite a few putts that came up short."

Salem was fifth in the medley relay. The Quakers' 880-yard relay unit of Mark Snyder, Tom Bauman, Zilske and Beery took a fourth in 1:34. Mayfield was first in 1:32. Zilske, Bauman, Snyder and Beery gave the Red and Black a fifth in the sprint medley relay.

Uncle Sam's Stars Capture 108 of 157 Gold Medals U.S. Discovers Olympic Prospects During Pan-Am Track And Field Meet

By JERRY LISKA Associated Press Sports Writer SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—The U.S. track and field squad, which lacked many of America's big names, headed home from the Pan-American Games today with a half dozen Olympic prospects uncovered here.

The track team led the American forces who collected 108 gold medals of 157 awarded at the Games, along with 55 silver and 37 bronze medals for second and third places.

That was more than twice as many as all the other nations combined in the two-week carnival which ended Sunday. Brazil was second with 14 golds.

The Yankee track forces, although they were weak in the sprints, grabbed 16 of the 23 track gold medals on the line, losing the 100, 200, 800, 5,000 meters and 400-meter hurdles, plus the marathon and the 20,000-meter walk.

The girl track athletes won six of 10 in their division.

Many U.S. track stars chose not to leave school or their jobs for the Games, especially with the Olympics coming up in Tokyo next year, which put extra pressure on the lesser-knowns who came.

"This was a terrific demonstration by an American squad which was the best available at a bad time in the college academic year," said head coach Lou Montgomery of Cornell.

"Furthermore, the United States made a great step forward in Olympic preparations by uncovering a half dozen fine prospects who normally might never have made the Pan-Am squad."

"I'm speaking of men like Blaine Lindren, Gene Johnson, John David Martin, Ollan Cassell, Billy Joe and Jim Pryde."

Lindren won the 110-meter hurdles. Johnson the high jump. Martin the decathlon and the others were runners-up in the 200 meters, shot put and hammer throw, respectively.

Western Reserve Juniors Win First InterCounty Track Meet

Western Reserve Junior High School scored 51 1/2 points to capture the first Class A Inter-county track and field meet held at McDonald Saturday.

North Lima was second with 34 points; Mineral Ridge third with 16.

Crestview fourth with 11 1/2. Lowellville fifth with 11, and Greenford and McDonald tied with 10 points apiece.

Reserve and North Lima fought another spirited duel, with Reserve leading by only 2 1/2 points before the two closing events. Reserve won the 440 relay and went on to take first and third in the broad jump to emerge victorious over their close rivals.

Dennis Keslar of Reserve scored 18 points in the meet, with first places in the 75 dash, 220 dash, and the broad jump. Weamer of Reserve had 10 points with a first in the shot put and a second in the discus. Cochran, also of Reserve, had 8 1/2 points, with a second in the 220, a third in the broad jump, and was the anchor man on the winning relay team.

Swank of North Lima scored 10 points, with a first in the 120 low hurdles and a second in the high jump. Tabor won a first place in the discus for Mineral Ridge; Estes won the pole vault for North Lima; and Siciliano of McDonald took the high jump.

Coach Bindas will take his Reserve lightweight and heavyweight squads (5-0) to the Mahoning County Class A Junior High meet at Boardman Wednesday at 4 p.m., to compete with North Lima, Lowellville, Greenford, Springfield, and Sebring.

Pastrano, Thornton May Meet 4th Time

LAS VEGAS (AP)—Light heavyweight boxers Willie Pastrano and Irish Wayne Thornton all even after three whacks at each other, may try it a fourth time.

The 28-year-old Pastrano, from Miami, rallied in the 10th round of their nationally-televised match Saturday night for a split decision victory.

There had been one decision by the 23-year-old Thornton, from Fresno, Calif., in February, and a draw in the rematch in March, both in New York.

Copromoters Mel Greb and Jack Doyle indicated interest in another rematch. And matchmaker Teddy Brenner of New York's Madison Square Garden, which promotes the Saturday night television bouts, lost no time at ringside in urging the fourth match.

Maris Belts Home Run

Not until Sunday did he round into his normal eye-popping form, as he set the New York Yankees down with six hits and beat them 4-1. Roger Maris' homer in the seventh inning ruined his chance for his seventh career shutout over the Yanks. He already tops the majors in blanking the perennial champions.

This season the Twins signed him right after New Year's Day. Pascual got plenty of spring work, but he lost his first three starts when the season opened. He won his next two, but was not at his best.

LA Loses 4th In Row

The Angels lost their fourth straight, as Bo Belinsky's record fell to 1-4. Dick Donovan had a 4-1 lead in the ninth, when the Angels got two, but Barry Latman stopped them in relief.

Hoyt Wilhelm's knuckleball apparently didn't knuckle, at Chicago. The relief pitcher came in with two out in the ninth and two on, in the second game, and Chuck Hinton hit his first pitch for a three-run homer that sank the Sox.

Ray Herbert pitched a three-hitter over the Senators in the first game. Dave Nicholson and Ron Hansen homered.

Pirates Are Dumped 7-3

Surprising Cubs Nip Milwaukee

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

It seems only yesterday that the Chicago Cubs were the biggest laugh in baseball. Everybody made snide remarks about the revolving coach system and the school of baseball knowledge. When Phil Wrigley appointed an athletic director, it was suggested he try for an Ivy League schedule.

Something strange has happened. The Cubs aren't funny any more. Whether it's head coach Bob Kennedy, the athletic director or the weather, the little Cubbies are big boys now. They are hanging in there in fourth place, only two games off the pace in the National League. When they beat Milwaukee Sunday 3-2 it was their sixth victory in their last seven starts.

A couple of players picked up from other clubs did the job Sunday. Merritt Ranew, once a Brave and more recently a Houston Colt, hit a homer and single and drove in two runs. Lindy McDaniel, a Cardinal last year, came in to complete the feat of saving every game in the three-game series.

While the Cubs were edging up, the leaders were faltering. Pittsburgh remained in first place by four percentage points, despite a 7-3 defeat by Los Angeles. San Francisco hopped into the lead momentarily by beating the New York Mets 6-3 at the Polo Grounds only to drop back when they lost the second game 4-2 before $53,880, the season's largest crowd. St. Louis also muffed a chance to climb when they lost the opener to Cincinnati 5-4 and had to come up with four runs in the 10th to salvage the second game 7-4.

In the other National League action, Houston finally won a game for the Phillies when they took the second 6-2 after bowing in the opener 6-5.

Cal Koonce was the Cubs' winner with help from Jim Brewer and McDaniel. Lou Brock had three of the six hits off three Brave pitchers. Ranew started the scoring with a 420-foot homer, his first, in the third inning and drove in Ron Santo with a third-inning single.

The big crowd at the Polo Grounds finally got a chance to cheer when Carl Willey snapped the Giants' six-game winning string in the second game with a seven-hitter. Willie Mays' three-run homer in the first and Felipe Alou's two-run blast in the fourth beat Galen Cisco in the opener. The three-day series drew 128,985, boosting the ninth-place Mets' total to 235,004 for 10 home dates. Jim O'Toole became the majors' first six-game winner in the opener against the Cardinals although he gave up 12 hits and left the game with one out in the seventh. Gene Oliver's two-run homer climaxed the Cards' four-run outburst in the 10th inning of the second game after an error by relief man Bill Henry opened the doors.

Jim Owens of the Reds was charged with two more balks as the National League umpires continued to call balks despite the instructions from President Warren Giles to take it easy. They now have called a total of 96, including five Sunday, to only nine in the American League.

The Dodgers managed their second victory in their last eight games on a three-run homer by pinch hitter Lee Walls off Harvey Haddix' first pitch in the ninth. Ron Perranoski was the winner on relief over Vern Law, making his first start since his recall from the minors.

Don Demeter knocked the first game out of the Colts' group when he slid into rookie catcher John Bateman and knocked the ball out of his hands to score the winning run in the opener at Philadelphia. Dick Farrell evened matters with a seven-hitter in the second game. After it was all over, the Phils' Wes Covington was leading the league at .333.

392 Honor SJBL Program At Annual Awards Dinner

A total of 392 persons attended the annual Salem Junior Baseball awards dinner at the Memorial Building Saturday night.

Four former Salem athletes, Lou Slaby, Bob Thiess, Bob Coy and Jim Meissner, addressed the group.

Trophies were given to Class E winner Famous Market, and runner-up CIO 3816; Class F winner BPOE 305, and runner-up Electric Furnace; Class G winner Salem Fire Department, and runner-up National Cleaners; and Class H winner Moose Lodge and runner-up Starks Colonial Attic. Leslie Brantingham, past commander of the Charles H. Carey Post 56, presented the awards.

Other awards were given to Charles "Rusty" Tomlinson, city recreation and parks director, for his outstanding service as tournament director; A. Powell Schmauch, a former member of the executive board of the leagues; for his former services rendered in the advancement of leagues; Fred Cope, athletic director of Salem Senior High, for his work in the interest of sports for the youth of the city; and Vic Ballinger, executive secretary of the Salem Chamber of Commerce, accepted that organization's award for their support of the SJBL.

Special baseball citations were given to Coy and Thiess from the American Legion National Headquarters. A special citation was also given to the Mothers Auxiliary of the Salem Junior Baseball Leagues for its service in raising money for the program. The unit raised over $1,800 in the past two years.

All managers and coaches present, as well as sponsors, were recognized. Managers and players on the winning teams were given miniature trophies. The runnerup teams received autographed baseballs.

Mayor Dean Cranmer gave the welcoming address, and Ford Joseph Jr., president of the City Council, was toastmaster.

Junior Baseball League Sets Meet. Tonight

A meeting of Salem Junior Baseball League Class E, F, G and H managers and commissioners will be held at the American League Home tonight at 7:30.

The baseball practice schedule used last week will be the same this week.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

There are now almost 5,000 IGA markets in the United States and Canada doing a combined volume of over 4 billion dollars annually. We are the second largest food distributor group in the world today. IGA was started about 36 years ago. The world's largest which is a chain is over a hundred years old. IGA should be in a few years number one.

We here at the Country Store are showing a nice increase in volume every week. Thanks for your patronage, we are going to try to be worthy of it.

WHAT HELPS SALEM... HELPS YOU

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Health Questions, Answers

Q—When my 12-year-old daughter twists her legs or bends her knees and ankles, they make a crackling noise. What causes this? What is the remedy?

Dr. Brandstadt
condition is usually painless.

Ordinarily, the person whose joints are crackling can hear the noise, more plainly than others, because he feels the crackling as well as hears it, and he may be self-conscious about it.

There is no remedy for this condition. Since it is not a disease, none is needed. But persons whose joints crackle can often reduce the noise by avoiding sudden jerky movements. This is comparable to learning to eat raw celery without waking the sleeping dog in the next room.

Q—Every time I take an alcoholic drink my face, neck, and chest break out in red blotches. I do not drink very often or very much, but this is very embarrassing to me. What is the cause?

A—Alcohol in small doses may dilate the blood vessels in the skin and cause flushing. Some persons are more susceptible to this physiologic action of alcohol than others. You will either have to give up drinking or make up your mind that the flushing is nothing to worry about, and not give it a second thought.

Q—What do you think about the discovery that calories don't count? I would like to lose some weight, but I don't want to have to diet.

A—I think I know your counterpart. He would like to have $1 million but doesn't want to have to work for it.

CALORIES DO COUNT. You take the high-calorie road and I'll take the low-calorie road, and I'll lose 10 pounds before you.

Q—Please explain the difference between intestinal flu and intestinal cancer.

A—Strictly speaking, intestinal flu is an acute attack of vomiting and diarrhea that is caused by a virus. Fever may or may not be an accompanying symptom. The term is loosely applied, however, to any severe upset in the digestive tract that lasts for several days. Studies to identify the guilty virus are expensive and are rarely made.

Since a variety of viruses may be the cause, the term "intestinal flu" is a misnomer, especially when applied to the ordinary attack of food poisoning.

The condition has no relationship to intestinal cancer, which is a slowly developing chronic disease that is more likely to cause constipation than diarrhea.

Q—I have been taking glutethimide (Doriden) sleeping pills for about six months. Would it do me any harm to take them over a long period?

A—This drug should be taken only under careful medical supervision. It causes nausea or itching in some persons. Overdosing may cause convulsions. It should not be taken over a long period. It is definitely habit-forming.

E. Liverpool Tax May Face New Test

EAST LIVERPOOL — Unless the city takes new legal action to intervene, a city income tax question that has been tied up in the courts for 10 months will be on the ballot in East Liverpool at the Nov. 5 general election.

That's the gist of a 10-page opinion which Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper received Friday from the 7th District Court of Appeals detailing the reasons for the court ruling against the city in a legal battle with Trades and Labor Council, which sought to force a vote on the tax issue.

Although Trades Council filed the petitions in August 1962, the documents still are "alive" and City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate should certify the question to the County Election Board for a place on the ballot at the next general election, the appellate court held.

The court commented that "a valid set of petitions does not lose its effectiveness during the course of litigation, but remains in abeyance, for years if necessary, until the litigation is disposed of, whereupon the question presented by it must be placed on the ballot at the first opportunity, notwithstanding that the wishes of the signers may have changed in the meantime."

"The case, for this reason, was not moot at filing of the petition and is not moot now," the court's opinion added. "The auditor on discharging his duties as ordered by the writ imposes a duty on the Board of Elections to put the question on the ballot at the next general election occurring more than 90 days following his performance."

The case dates back to the fall of 1962, when Trades Council filed petitions in the auditor's office, asking a vote on an initiative ordinance that would have repealed the city income tax ordinance. But the auditor ruled the petitions invalid and declined to certify the question. The labor group was sustained, but the city appealed to the district court.
